

The internet is changing rapid from an information channel into a place for exchange and collaboration: social software.

The virtual world supports in meeting, relating, and collaboration on the internet. The digital surrounding is no longer just for consuming but also a place for developing.

What is the meaning of web 2.0 to the virtual learning (VLE) environment in education?

Most VLE's are based on the principles of web 1.0. In 2005 introduced Downes the term e-learning 2.0: the learner in control.

In this carousel we want to show some web 2.0 possibilities.
