

Where to look next for digital careers:

<https://nationalcareers.service.gov.uk/job-categories/computing-technology-and-digital>

Find out more about building your skills at www.skillsbuilder.org

Jobs where you analyse data

Key skills

You could be:

- a data analyst
- a data scientist
- a machine learning engineer

Or perhaps you would like to work in IT security.

You might like these jobs because:

You would enjoy a job that keeps you challenged. You enjoy the sense of accomplishment of finding a solution to a problem.

Jobs where you are visually creative

Key skills

You could be:

- a web designer
- a photo or video editor
- a video games designer

Or perhaps you would like to be a graphic designer.

You might like these jobs because:

You want a job that combines your creative skills with your love of technology to create graphics, animations or visual effects. You would enjoy communicating with clients and helping them bring their ideas to life.

Jobs where you design and build software

Key skills

You could be:

- a software developer
- a video games programmer
- a web developer

Or perhaps you would like to help create new apps.

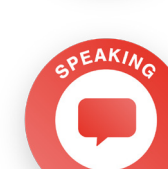

You might like these jobs because:

You want to have a job with lots of variety and different tasks, which provides opportunities for learning new skills. You enjoy both working as part of a large team and working alone.

Jobs where you help solve IT problems

Key skills

You could be:

- an IT support technician
- a computer technician
- a network engineer

Or perhaps you would like to work as an IT consultant

You might like these jobs because:

You would like a job where you get to use your problem-solving skills to help people. You like a lot of variety in your day, with many different tasks to complete.

