

Careers in the emergency services - where to look next:

National Careers Service: tinyurl.com/fh2careers1
 Target Careers: tinyurl.com/fh2careers2

Find out more about building your skills at www.skillsbuilder.org

Jobs on the front line

You could be:

- a police officer
- a firefighter
- a paramedic

Or perhaps you would like to work as a coastguard or a traffic officer.

You might like these jobs because:

You love to be close to the action and want to help keep people safe. You want a job which keeps you busy, where no two days are the same and you get satisfaction from helping others.

Key skills

- PROBLEM SOLVING
- STAYING POSITIVE
- TEAMWORK
- LEADERSHIP

Jobs where you communicate with the public

You could be:

- a call handler
- an emergency medical dispatcher

Or perhaps you would like to work as a media or social media officer.

You might like these jobs because:

You enjoy working in a high-pressure environment to support others to help keep people safe. You prefer working in an office to being out and about.

Key skills

- CREATIVITY
- LISTENING
- SPEAKING

Jobs where you protect people & properties

You could be:

- a prison officer
- a store detective
- a door supervisor

Or perhaps you would like to be a bodyguard or work in civil enforcement.

You might like these jobs because:

You enjoy meeting all sorts of different people and helping them to stay safe. You can stay calm and positive in stressful or difficult situations.

Key skills

- LISTENING
- SPEAKING
- STAYING POSITIVE
- PROBLEM SOLVING

Jobs where you support emergency workers

You could be:

- an administrator
- a human resources officer

Or perhaps you would like to work in emergency planning.

You might like these jobs because:

You want to make a difference by supporting others to help keep people safe. You'd be happiest in an office with a calm environment.

Key skills

- PROBLEM SOLVING
- STAYING POSITIVE
- AIMING HIGH

