

Are you interested in Building Sustainable Communities?

If so, you might be interested in a free course aimed at giving access to Foundation Degree study in:

- Community Development and Regeneration
- Landscape, Heritage and Conservation
- Sustainable Communities and the Built Environment
- Working with Communities: Identities, Regeneration and Change
- Community Arts and Media

Further information

Please contact
The Institute for
Lifelong Learning at
The University of Sheffield
on 0114 222 7000

Building Sustainable Communities Bridging Course

5 June to 10 July 2009

This free course will be delivered on a part-time basis over five weeks, with the mode of delivery differing between providers.

It is a chance for you to have a taste of studying on a Foundation Degree (FdA) programme.

The course will be accredited and should be able to count towards Foundation Degree credits.

Free childcare will be available for students participating at Northern College.

Run jointly by The University of Sheffield, Sheffield Hallam University and Northern College.

Image © iStockphoto
Tomaz Levstek

 higherfutures
Creating pathways to lifelong learning

Further information

Please contact
The Institute for
Lifelong Learning at
The University of Sheffield
on 0114 222 7000