

VALUING LEARNING

...Making your credit count....

We want to let you know about a new initiative called Valuing Learning that we think could be a great next step for you when you complete your current course. Valuing Learning aims to encourage learners with appropriate OCN credits - mainly at Level 3 but some at Level 2 – to apply for the transfer of credit onto Access to Higher Education programmes

Access to Higher Education Programme Tutors have been considering this and have identified your course as one of those suitable for credit transfer. So, in your case, when you complete your current OCN learning programme, you may be able to transfer some of your credits to the Access to Higher Education programme run at your college.

Think about it this way. The learning you are embarking on and the credits you are about to earn could be the starting point for your passport to University!

During the coming year you will be given the opportunity to visit the Access to HE Programme to meet the tutors and learners and to find out what is involved. Why not take advantage of this opportunity? - We look forward to meeting you and hearing how you get on!

Best wishes

The Building Pathways Team

The Building Pathways Project is a Widening Participation to Higher Education partnership project funded through the Aimhigher strategy for South Yorkshire. All the Further Education Colleges and local universities in South Yorkshire and bordering areas are partners in the project. The Project is based in Sheffield Hallam University

Building Pathways Project
48 Howard Street
City Campus
Sheffield Hallam University
Sheffield S1 2LX

Tel 0114 225 3736
website <http://extra.shu.ac.uk/pathways/index.html>